ABOUT ARBINGER

Arbinger is the world leader in mindset change. Through training, consulting, coaching, and implementation programs, Arbinger enables individuals, teams, and organizations to change from the default self-focus of an inward mindset to the impact-focus of an outward mindset. Arbinger provides strategies and behavioral reinforcements that sustain this change. The result is dramatic and sustained improvement in the key success indicators of our client organizations—in their levels of collaboration, employee engagement, accountability, revenue growth, market share, and profitability.

Arbinger's programs and methodology are based on 45 years of research in the psychology of human behavior and motivation, and more than 40 years of experience working with organizations worldwide in the corporate, healthcare, education, government, public safety, and nonprofit sectors. The Arbinger team is comprised of individuals from diverse backgrounds and industries who possess the ability to help individuals and organizations achieve success through a fundamental change in mindset. Arbinger has offices in nearly 30 countries.

Beth Hannan is a consultant and facilitator dedicated to helping organizations orchestrate programs and strategies to maximize growth and impact. With more than ten years of experience in the healthcare and non-profit sectors, Beth's background ranges from supporting grief-stricken families in the most challenging of times to helping tech entrepreneurs identify their value proposition and mentoring young professionals as they become leaders in their communities.

Prior to working with Arbinger, Beth developed and led high-performing teams at various organizations to increase the number of organ transplants done for needy recipients. Beth was a key influencer and leader who was able to inspire and motivate others to have a greater impact, even in high-stress environments.

Beth earned a bachelor's degree from Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge and an executive master's degree in leadership from Georgetown University's McDonough School of Business.
